THE NEW YPSILANTI COMMERCIAL VITAL RECORDS INDEX

By Jerome Drummond

The Ypsilanti District Library has a new database that will be of interest to history researchers as well as genealogists. The database is called Ypsilanti Commercial Vital Records and is an index to such records as appeared in the Ypsilanti Commercial newspaper from 1864 to 1898.

The Ypsilanti Commercial began life as the True Democrat so named by its owner Charles Rich Pattison to draw attention to the anti-democratic attitudes of the Democratic Party and its slave-holding Southern contingent. In Pattison's opinion, the truly democratic party was the Republican Party. When the Civil War ended just a year later, Pattison renamed the paper the Ypsilanti Commercial. "Advertiser" and "commercial" had been words popularly used in the titles of penny press papers of 30 years earlier. Most likely Pattison also felt that using "commercial" expressed the paper's pro-business support.

The Ypsilanti District Library, where I am employed, encourages its staff to take on projects to improve services to the public. I have been working on my own genealogy since 1984 and I have always been grateful that libraries, historical and genealogical societies, and interested individuals have taken the time to index records, allowing me to use them easily and quickly. So developing a record index came immediately to mind. The question was which record, and that was an easy choice, because librarians are always receiving queries from people looking for the vital records of ancestors but who often lack precise information. The conversation frequently goes something like this: "Well, I think I had an ancestor in Ypsilanti and I think his name was Richard and I think he died there in the 1890s about…" Of course, finding such a record is a herculean task without an index, so creating an index of this sort appealed to me.

For eight years I cranked an old-style microfilm reader looking for references in the Ypsilanti Commercial newspaper to birth, marriage, and death, entering them into a Microsoft Access database. In the latter stage of the project I had the help of two volunteers, Dr. Kathryn Ziegler of Eastern Michigan University and the late Laura Jacks, a retired nurse well-known in Ypsilanti for her many volunteer projects. At first, I thought the library would produce a printed copy to have at each branch's adult reference desk, but my branch manager Joy Cichewicz thought it better to have it online, which would make it available nationwide and beyond. This was a great idea because many individuals passed through Ypsilanti on their way West, so researchers outside of Michigan would find it useful and accessible.

Getting the database added to our website was a challenge, but after much delay it went live in 2017. It contains 7,632 records and references perhaps 20,000 people. It is easy to find on the Ypsilanti District Library website; in fact there are several different methods. From the top menu on the YDL website, click "Research" which will bring up databases to which you then scroll down and the last one is "Ypsilanti Commercial Vital Records." Or from the same top menu, click "Interests," then click "Genealogy and Local History" which brings up a shorter list of databases and then scroll down to "Ypsilanti Commercial Vital Records." The database is housed in the A. P. Marshall African American Oral History Archive, which you can select and then click on "Genealogy" at the top of the page.

On the page is a preface which explains certain characteristics and limitations of the fields. At the bottom of the page is a search engine in which you can enter the first and last name of your subject, the type of event desired, and a beginning and ending to the range of years you wish to search. Put in whatever information you have and click "Search" and results will be quickly displayed.

The display will consist of a minimum of seven fields. They are:

1. Record Number—The actual record number in the database
2. Name—The name of the subject of your search
3. Event— Birth, Marriage, or Death
4. Event Date—The date of the event
5. News Date—The publication date of the paper containing the event
6. Newspaper—Name of the newspaper the event appeared in.
7. Page Number—Page number where event is mentioned.

In addition to these fields, there are several more for the names of people related to the subject mentioned in the paper. There may be a "Notes" field in the future.

Concerning the Methodology Behind the Index

The Ypsilanti Commercial covered news of our area, particularly Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Dexter, Chelsea, Belleville, Canton, Denton, Cherry Hill, Saline, and Dixboro, as well as events in other places involving people connected to local residents. Any vital event that fell within these parameters was included. I did not include vital events from the state of Michigan or United States in general unless related to this circulation area. A state senator who died might have had an impact on the area, but is not related to anyone in it, and so is not mentioned.

Most weeks, the Ypsilanti Commercial ran numerous formal announcements of births, deaths, etc. that were paid for by the subject's family just as they are today. Along with these, I also recorded any other mention of vital events. For instance, there might be an article on someone's accidental death or news of a birth to former residents now living out West. If the vital event occurred in our area or involved former residents, it is included as reported.

The actual date of vital events might not have been recorded in the paper. For instance, reports of the deaths of Union soldiers in the Civil War might come months after the event with no death date reported. In these cases the event date will be the same as the news date.

The name of the subject and of any other relatives are spelled in the database exactly as they are in the paper. The names of local residents are included in the parts of the paper that were typeset last and under time pressure, so they often contain inaccuracies, not to mention that not all residents knew how to spell their name and that not all names were regularized at this time. Males are more often named than females or children. You might have "John Stewart and his wife and children have moved to Wyoming," or "John Stewart died and leaves behind three children, his wife having preceded him in death last year." It is also the case that in the nineteenth century, in newspapers as well as headstones, often there are initials used instead of given and middle names, for instance: "A baby boy was born to E. T. and J. G. White." It was usually the habit of the paper to list the husband or father first and I worked under this assumption where initials were concerned.

The "Newspaper Name" column is displayed because it is assumed that vital records from other newspapers will be added to the database in the future. All records currently in the database are listed as Ypsilanti Commercial even those for the paper's first year of existence (1864-1865) when it was called the True Democrat.

The remaining fields are for relatives mentioned in any vital record or article. For each of these fields a relationship such as mother, father, grandparent, wife, husband, child and sibling are indicated. Using these terms, a relationship not specified is indicated by "other." If more relatives are mentioned than the database had room for, I tried to fill the fields with relatives who were either geographically removed from the area or had surnames or married names different than the subject, thus maximizing the usefulness of the index to people searching it with only a name.

It is important to know that the Ypsilanti Commercial depended on advertising revenue and subscription rates. It was directed at a readership that was white, Protestant, middle class or higher, literate, Republican and of primarily British family ethnicity, and that is who appears in the paper. My Irish Catholic ancestors living by the Michigan Central Railroad tracks would never be mentioned in any vital event, paid or otherwise. However, had they gotten drunk and fallen in the Huron River they would have certainly been mentioned. This is literally true, and quite funny I think.

A small subset of the "marriage events" are only probable. I included under "marriage events" engagements mentioned in articles. Also, for a time the Ypsilanti Commercial would publish each week a list of marriage license applications originally printed in the Ann Arbor Argus. I assume that most of those marriages came off, but certainly a few of them didn't. I had no field for them but couldn't pass them up.

Ready For Your Use

This database is thoroughly operable now. It is still a work in progress with some bugs to be worked out. Sometimes searches will bring up a duplicate entry (which is easy to see) and rarely the date will be 1990 instead of 1890. I will be working on editing the database next year to eliminate those errors, and it would be helpful if any bugs are reported to me via my email. We may add another field to the database at some point, change its look, and add other newspaper entries.

The index is of course just that, so the researcher must read the newspaper edition indicated, as well as editions before and after the event to glean all the information available. Some events, such as deaths, may generate several articles over the weeks before or after the death, such as memorials, that the researcher will wish to peruse. Some records are terse while others have considerable biographical and genealogical detail. This newspaper was a small-town paper and wished to be "newsy" to its subscribers, which is sometimes a bonanza for genealogists.

On behalf of the Ypsilanti District Library, enjoy this valuable new tool!

REV. FRIEDRICH SCHMID'S BAPTISMAL RECORDS, 1847–1875, WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN
(Part Fifteen)

Translated & transcribed by Rob Steward, 2018

The original records of Rev. Friedrich Schmid are currently housed and may be accessed in The Michigan Historical Collections, Bentley Historical Library, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Please note that the handwriting of Rev. Schmid is not easily deciphered, in part due to his penmanship. The records contain entries written in old German script and some using English script. In addition, the pages in his records are not numbered. It is our understanding that he kept notes as he traveled and then entered them into his record books when he returned home. This may explain that while the records are fairly complete there are some gaps or omissions.

We have maintained the spelling Rev. Schmid used in the case of names. Items enclosed in parentheses are usually comments or notes of the translators or indicate alternate spellings. The term "geb." in relation to a female name, refers to "born as" or maiden name. A "+" sign or cross at the beginning or end of a line was later added to the original record to indicate the person is deceased. "Unehl." indicates that the parents were not married to each other at the time of the baptism. A "-?-" indicates the specific entry was illegible.

Rev. Schmid's Baptismal Records are in column format as follows:
(Left hand pages – a.) "Chronological Number" of the child for that particular year; Name of Child; Parents Names; Place; Birth Date.
(Right hand pages – b.) Baptismal Date and Place; Sponsors Names (sometimes marital status or relationship of the sponsors are listed).
Columns with no entry or missing information are indicated by three hyphens (---).

DEATH OF CELESTA TAYLOR, LIMA, MICHIGAN, 1892

Celesta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Taylor, died at their residence in Lima, last Saturday night of diabetes. She was not considered dangerously ill till Thursday. It was very sudden and very sad. She was a bright, sweet girl, 22 years old, beloved by all and with everything to live for. She was already accomplished in music and had a useful life in prospect. Many mourning relatives and friends paid their last tribute of respect to her memory at the M. E. church, Tuesday afternoon.

ZION LUTHERAN CHURCH CONFIRMATIONS 1891–1894, ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN

Abstracted by Judi Bornemeier

The following is an abstract of the confirmations for the years 1891–1894 recorded in a Zion Lutheran Church, Ann Arbor, Michigan record book labeled 1875–1894 Baptisms, Weddings, Funerals and Communicant Register, Confirmation Classes 1877–1894. The book is part of the Zion Lutheran Church Ann Arbor, Michigan Records, 1833-1981 collection at the Bentley Historical Library, University of Michigan and these confirmation records were abstracted and printed with permission from Bentley Historical Library as well as Zion Lutheran Church. Beginning in 1891 the confirmation records are mostly written in English—prior to 1891 they are exclusively in German. The notes entered in German were translated into English by John Schmale. The abstract maintains the recorded spelling of names. The surnames of the children were not entered in the record but are added in this abstract in brackets.

POLL LISTS, PITTSFIELD TOWNSHIP, WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN, 1837

Transcribed by Nancy H. Krohn

Among the earliest extant poll lists for Washtenaw County are two 1837 lists for Pittsfield Township found in the Washtenaw County, Michigan records at Bentley Historical Library, University of Michigan and are printed courtesy of the library. Michigan achieved statehood on January 26, 1837 and these elections were held later that year. On August 21st and 22nd, representatives to Congress were elected while representatives to the state legislature, state officers and various county officers were elected on November 6th and 7th.

The August list has 93 names and the November list has 111. The August poll clerks were Alanson Doty, and Wellington H. Collins. The November poll clerks were B. Holmes and Jarvis Leonard. The original lists were ordinally numbered with the given name followed by surname. For ease of searching, the two lists are combined and sorted alphabetically by surname. Spelling remains as found on the original.
